Inaugural JEEM Conference in Environmental and Resource Economics

Date: 22-23 June 2018

The Journal of Environmental Economics and Management (JEEM) is delighted to announce a call for papers for the inaugural JEEM Conference in Environmental and Resource Economists. Leveraging the upcoming World Congress of Environmental and Resource Economists starting 25 June 2018 in Gothenberg, Sweden, the JEEM Conference will be held 22-23 June 2018 at a nearby Scandinavian city to be determined shortly. Authors are invited to submit research papers on topics consistent with the journal's aims and scope for consideration – abstracts or incomplete papers will not be considered. A modest honorarium will be offered along with travel support for those presenting at the conference. In recognition of the honorarium, authors of selected conference papers will give the JEEM editors the opportunity to review revised papers for publication in JEEM. These papers will be subjected to the standard review process, although that process will likely be expedited. The Program Committee, consisting of Professors Till Requate, V. Kerry Smith, and Roger H. von Haefen, will select roughly twelve papers for presentation based on their overall quality and potential impact on the literature. Depending on the mix of submissions, the committee anticipates selecting two or three conference themes around which to organize selected papers.

Travel and lodging costs for two nights (up to US$ 1200) will be reimbursed for one presenter for each accepted paper. The deadline for submissions is 15 January 2018. Authors will be notified of acceptance decisions by 15 March 2018.

Please submit electronic versions (preferably *.pdf) of papers to jeemconference@gmail.com. Authors' names and affiliations should be on the cover page only. In the corresponding email, authors must acknowledge that their paper is not currently under review for publication elsewhere. There is no submission fee.

Questions about the conference may be sent to jeemconference@gmail.com or directly to members of the Program Committee.
